Connecting Competences.

Sharing expertise means sharing success

With B. Braun you profit from the expertise of one of the world's leading companies in international healthcare. With a workforce of 30,000 we are currently represented in more than 50 countries worldwide. Our portfolio comprises over 30,000 pharmaceutical and medical products.

Our four divisions are orientated towards providing products and services ideally suited to the specific area of medicine: hospitals, surgery, private practice and extracorporeal blood treatment.

And by transferring know-how from one division to the next we transform products and services into holistic, integrated systems.

Based on the synergy of this concentrated expertise the B. Braun OEM Division offers original products, innovative solutions, efficient technologies, in-depth knowledge of applications and markets as well as sustainable process-oriented services and flexible manufacturing capabilities.

With this knowledge we accompany you from the first idea to the finished product. Each day companies worldwide rely on our experience, resources and dedication to quality.

After all, when we share expertise we also share success.

Realizing Ideas.

Business partnerships that work

Whatever you need to realize your idea: Partnering with B. Braun gives you access to complete project management capabilities.

Products

Pharmaceutical Solutions

We offer all kinds of solutions for irrigation, infusion therapy and volume replacement as well as standard injectables and anesthetics.

Medical Devices

B. Braun supports you with innovative medical devices for fluid and infusion therapy. From safety cannulas to state-of-the-art infusion pumps.

Disinfection & Hygiene

Discover our products for cleaning, disinfecting and protecting skin and hands, for machine or manual disinfection of instruments as well as spray and wipe disinfection of surface areas.

Project management

Product Variation and Combination

We provide you with standard products assembled in customized kits and products with modified characteristics. We back this up with labels, imprints and wrappings each tailored precisely to your detailed specifications. Another area of our business is the packaging of customized kits and procedure sets – designed and combined in keeping with all your requirements.

Pharmaceutical Contract Manufacturing

Benefit from innovative technologies including system components and different container types perfectly adapted to your requirements: bottles, ampoules, vials, tubes, bags, multi-chamber bags.

Common Development

In addition to the design and manufacturing of medical products and prototypes we also provide support in the development of galenic preparations in hydrous solutions and lipid emulsions.

Services

Analytical Services

We will analyze the compatibility and stability of your solutions and drugs according to ICH upon agreement of a stability protocol.

Regulatory Support

We will support you on a variety of regulatory issues providing technical documentation, product master files, safety sheets and certificates of analysis.

Customer Service

Our professional Customer Service team is always committed to providing the utmost care and attention in processing and managing your orders. Benefit from our central order processing and distribution services. We can deliver goods either to your warehouse or directly to your customer.
